I have been invited by the Republican State Central Committee of Maine to help the party in that State.

Maine fires the first gun in the coming con test and it wants to be "a shot heard around the world." It has been thought by the managers of the campaign of that State that I can be of some service to them in their contest, hence I feel it my duty to go there and do what I can. My interssts, therefore, must be wholly in the hands of my friends.

If the people of this District are satisfied that I am the man to represent them next winter in the Legislature, it will be my greatest ambition to serve them in that capacity to the very best of my ability. If, however, the Republican party of the district should select another for that place, it will be my great pleasure to do all I can for the success not only of that nominee, but for the success of all other nominees of the Republican party in the county, in the State and in the Nation. Respectfully,

J. R. BURTON.

Grover let the River and Harbor bill become a law without his signature. Cowardly, wasn't it?

The Gazette is going to "run" the Mills bill. So will the American peowith all its supporters.

How much do you suppose the political manipulator Hoffman will "git" for attempting to draw off Anderson votes and turn them over to Tebey?

Some of our esteemed Democratic chilly, contemporaries are busy showing that there are quite a number of Democrats who have not turned to Harrison and

On authority of the London Iron Era it is stated that "the Cobden Club is trying to raise a large sum of money to be spent in furthering the free-trade propaganda in the United States Lord Brassey has given $5,000, others less, and the hat is going round."

An exchange asks in stentorian tones "Are Democrats aliens?" Well, considering the fact that a good many of them came from "furrin parts" and that the whole crowd are yelling themselves hoarse in praise of Great Britain, it looks to us as though they came mighty near it.

The Democrats rolled up an enormous majority in Alabama by the same nefarious methods that they used in Louisiana. It is probable that they are perpetrating larger frauds than resual these fall in the Southren States in order to setimidate Southern voters and to encourage their Northern allies.

In Texas Mr. Mills has declared "I am a Free Trader and I glory to the want some more new railroads? Well, name." In New York he insists that she will not be bereft; for the winds "the Democratic party is not in favor blow cold and dreary, of free trade." These contrasted utterances show just how much honesty and sincerity there is in the Democratic party and Mr. Mills,

PROSPEROUS ABILENE.

Some Improvements Noted in a Look Over the City-Cold Days When She Gets Left.

Every visitor to Abilene is surprised at the wonderful growth of the Belle during the past two years. The additions stretching out on every side make it truly metropolitan in proportions while the improvements observed in all boom has not been sleeping.

Last year several hundred acres were added to the limits of the municipality in order to accommodate the influx of people attracted to the town by her fame, her beauty and her energy. This year there have been no "additions" aid out, but the city has gone on improving in every respect, showing that the future capital of Kansas is still a loadstone to attract wealth aud a giant to inspire confidence.

A ride around the city reveals a most flourishing state of affairs and one quite encouraging in comparison with the stillness that seems to have fallen upon seme of our sister towns.

In the heart of the city, the chief attraction is of course the $20,000 city hall which is just completed. It is a credit alike to the city and the mayor and council who overlooked its con-

East Abilene is fairly alive with workmen putting up the twenty elegant residences contracted for by C. F. Mead. Ten of these are already nearly completed. The whole twenty will cost from two to three thousand dollars East Abilene also hopes to secure the new college which is to be ocated in this city, and if it does, that part of the town will go far to the front. The new residences just receiving the finishing touches are in the most modern styles of architecture and, being on the line of the street cars. will prove attractive abiding places.

Going north we find the palatial homes of Messrs. Fry, Humphrey, Edwards and Reed that have recently been completed. They are homes that anyone may be proud to own. Then there is the St. Joseph's college, costing over $30,000, which will be opened this fall. The college addition which eighteen months ago was bare prairie. is now dotted with pleasant homes in which happiness and comfort are found.

West side has not seen as many new buildings as it did last year but it has been improved by the addition of several beautiful homes and the adornment of the lawns and streets. This part of the city has lost the "new" appearance which characterized it last year and now is taken for a long-settled

Southside has been growing with remainder of the divisions and shows many new roofs. Carpenters' hammers are heard in all directions and tell of business and rustle.

We have not mentioned the new structures in Richland Park or the many remodeled and rebuilt residences in the center of the city; but there has been enough said to show that were last year's abnormal growth forgotten, we would consider this a decided 'boom" season.

This is in many respects the farmers' year. The cities of the State have come to the point when they must halt in their mad rush for immense size and population and wait for the country to catch up with them in development. This halt is beneficial. It gives the towns a chance to beautify their surroundings and to make those substantial additions to their appearance that distinguish a municipality of the eastern States from the newer towns of the west. This they will do and it will be much better for the cities than to go on piling up "additions" and delin-

Abilene is gaining in attractiveness every day. She is the best known city of the second class in the State, and when the boom swings around in this ple "run" it-run it out the Nation direction again the large end of it will strike us amidships. For among all Kansas cities that a crown of glory wear for their enterprise and rustle and their busy pushing air, there's none wins so much as Abilene, none has a way so deft; for the air is mighty
